A WORD FROM THE RESIDENT

The PDW Experience

Cathy Prusak

Wow! What a great time we had at PDW '90. Aside from all of the fun and frolic there were some very important concepts regarding the evolution of pharmacy practice as we enter into a new decade - "New Age, New Challenges". The conference's focus on new and innovative services being offered by various pharmacies across the country was very exciting. It gave us a real sense of the bright future which pharmacy can expect.

In order for this new age to continue progressing in the same positive way, we must all realize that the challenge is to every one of us. We must respond to this challenge by sharing our expertise in the area of pharmacy with anyone who can benefit from it. Our enthusiasm and dedication to this profession will be the deciding factor in the direction pharmacy takes. If the caliber of the 700 students participating this year at PDW in Montreal is any indication, we're in for a very prosperous future.

In closing, I would like to congratulate the PDW'90 Committee for your tremendous effort in planning such a successful conference. To everyone who could not take part in PDW this year, mark it on your calendar for next January, and we'll see you in Toronto!
